ABOUT US

In 2010, golf enthusiast Paul Seifert created the WiscoGolfAddict blog as a way to combine two of his favorite things: writing and golf.

Over the years, site content has grown beyond local golf course reviews to profile top U.S. golf destinations, product and gear... as well as other random musings on the world of golf.

WiscoGolfAddict readers range from casual weekend warriors to country clubbers, and from competitive players to those simply enjoying the walk.
